Welcome Emily Vinci our new Evening/Weekend Circulation Supervisor

No stranger to liberal arts colleges, native Iowan Emily earned her BA in Classical Studies and minor in English from Cornell College and her Master’s in Library and Information Science from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign this past May. She also works as an Adult Services Assistant Librarian at the Barrington Area Library. She loves to read (naturally), and is currently on something of a readable nonfiction kick. She enjoys going to movies, thrifting, and hanging out with her cats. Stop by the Circulation Desk to welcome Emily!

E-Books at the Library

Several E-book collections may appear when you search the library catalog. These books will display a small red “e” icon (see image at right). You may read these books online, link to them in Moodle, or (in many cases) download them. The largest of these collections is from the Hathi Trust, a digital repository that provides long-term preservation and access services for the public domain and in-copyright content from a variety of sources, including Google, the Internet Archive, Microsoft, and participating libraries. The project name of Hathi (pronounced hah-tee) comes from the Hindi word for elephant and evokes the animal’s renowned memory, wisdom, and strength. Contact David Levinson (levinson@lakeforest.edu) if you have questions about downloading these books to any devices.

Librarian Nancy Sosna Bohm Contributes to A Pocket Manual of Style

Congratulations to Nancy who reviewed and contributed to the APA Version of A Pocket Manual of Style, published this summer!
