COLLEGE NOTES.

Where is the Freshman sleigh ride?

John and Kennedy, '01, are pledged to Kappa Sigma.

Hanson and Anderson attended the concert at the Auditorium Monday night.

R. B. Kyle went to the city Friday to arrange some basket ball games with Y. M. C. A. teams.

The Junior class held a meeting Saturday the purpose of which was to arrange some indoor ball games with other teams.

Askem:— "What! Are you studying!"

Studynt:— "Oh no; don't be alarmed. I am only making out my schedule for next term."

The college mandolin quartette consisting of Messrs Ray, Brown, Hansen and Loranz rendered some very enjoyable music at the Art Institute Thursday.

Owing to Glee Club practice and Society meetings, the party, which planned to attend the Waukegan dancing school, was unable to go Friday night.

Verily there was weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth in the dormitory after the class game Saturday night. From the third or fourth floor? Three guesses!

Owing to their inability to make up a team the Alumni were obliged to cancel the indoor ball game for Saturday night. The Freshman—Sophomore game was played instead.

Prof. W. Jaeger, Y. M. C. A., the world renowned fire eater, performed his wonderful feats before a large and enthusiastic audience one evening last week in the new dormitory Roof Garden.

The gymnasium was occupied the greater part of last week by Freshmen and Sophomores practicing indoor base ball for the class game Saturday. Quite a number of Stars (?) have been evolved.

The meeting in the Art Institute Thursday afternoon created a good deal of college esprit. Much surplus energy was expended in giving the College and Academy yells and in singing college songs.

First Boarder— "What are you kicking on that coffee for?"

Second Boarder— (as he watches the grounds floating in the cup before him) "Well, I think I have sufficient grounds to kick."

The first rehearsal of the Mandolin Club took place Friday afternoon. Leader Hanson expresses himself as well pleased with the showing of candidates and hopes to have an even better club than that of last year.

Progressive cinque was indulged in by a select number of enthusiasts in Rubber Neck Point and Loafers Den Friday evening. And lo, Saturday morn came before the victors left the dismantled field and all was quiet.

Great chunks of melody with occasional diminished sevenths and unsolved chords of the ninth float from the Athenaeum Hall several times a week. It is not an Apollo Club recital but only the Glee Club, practicing their new songs.

The Sophomore-Freshman indoor ball game was well attended. The supporters of the different teams were decked in yellow and white and red and white, the class colors. A great deal of class spirit was shown and the game furnished ample amusement for the spectators.

Flashes From the Wires.

Jan. 20—The Doctor Jeckyll side of Hyde becomes apparent.

Jan. 21—6:30 a. m., Walker starts for breakfast. 7:15 a. m. Safe arrival at same.

Jan. 22—Sophs' and Freshies' day. Yellow and white predominates.

Jan. 24—Epistula received from Palestine. College man made glad.
ACADEMY NOTES.

Water is a good thing in its place, but a lamp is no place for it. If you don't believe this, ask Wood.

W. Banning and Offield represented the Academy in the programme at the Art Institute on Wednesday.

The meeting in Art Institute was a success if the decision is to rest with the "Cad" boys. We hope this will be repeated at least twice each term.

There is no one who believes more in keeping things in order than Stark. This makes the second time he has had his room calcimined since the beginning of school.

Wednesday evening for the space of about an hour, Paul Campbell was the guest of Principal Welch. Professor Coblentz was also present but not by invitation.

The 4th English class which is studying "Burkes Conciliation With the Colonies" under Professor Coblentz are in the midst of a very interesting paragraph analysis of this speech.

Recently the "Broadwayites" were heard making loud and repeated inquiries for those articles of foot-wear commonly known as socks. The absence of these garments was followed by a late arrival at the breakfast table.

The Tri Kapps are mourning over the loss of a hair brush. The missing article was being made the instrument of the original Tick Tack trick and "somehow, somewhere" it disappeared. If Stark wishes to know where it is let him enquire of the Gamma Sig's.

"A hearty laugh is the best dessert at meal time." So says some philosopher and this being true, the fellows need not fear ill health if they continue to make the dining room ring with their noise. Any-one late to meals usually gets the laugh which is "loud and long."

To the rules published in our last issue may be added the following: Baths to be taken only on Wednesday and Saturday nights; Study hour to begin at half past seven on Saturday nights and lights not out until half past ten; quiet hour from eight until ten Sunday nights. There is also a promise of something more soon, so leave a few inches of space for addition rules when you are copying these.

The Y. M. C. A. executive committee held a meeting in E. S. Hamn's room Friday evening. Ways and means were proposed and discussed in the interests of the association. The committee has it to report that the association is in a fairly prosperous condition. The membership is 23, 14 active and 9 associate members and the average attendance in the weekly meetings for 1897 was 20. The January business meeting will be held tonight at the close of the devotional meeting. The meeting of last Wednesday evening was postponed owing to the district convention of the C. E. societies as several of the members wished to attend the convention.

If you have a rope that's tried and true, Tie not the Prof's doors with the new, For with the new one the knot will slip, And on the door-knob 'twill lose its grip. But the threat in the morning—"twill be ferrited out."

Raise from the "Dorm" Boys, a lusty shout For the boys held their sides and laughed in glee.

To see the discomfiture of Prof. —

Stray dog in dorm. Mr. and Mrs. C— come up the stairs. Mr. C— opens the door of suite. Dog trots out. Mrs. C— shrieks Oh! dear—:—:—: All is quiet. Finis. SENIOR and JUNIOR.

A Tragedy.

Anyone wishing to take dancing lessons, especially clog dancing, will call on Parsons.

The latest and best joke is on the Tri Kappa. Some ingenious Sophomore reported to the Tri Kapps that the Gama Siggs were going to wear colors and give the Freshman yells at the indoor game Saturday night. The T. Ks. immediately called a special meeting and voted they would stand by the Sophomores. There are a number of Tri Kapps in the Freshman class and it will not be well if they find that ingenious Sophomore.

E. S. HAMM.

ALUMNI.

It is our sad duty to announce to the Alumni through this column, the departure from this life of one of their number.

Mrs. Mary Anderson Findlay died at her home in Lake Forest Saturday morning, January 14th.

She was a member of the class of '88 of Lake Forest College, and has been connected with Lake Forest circles since that time. In her death Lake Forest loses one of its most respected women, and the family mourns the departed one. She was married to Mr. George Findlay on Feb. 14, 1893.

Of this class of eleven, one other besides Mrs. Findlay has died, Rev. E. H. Hyde.

The others in this class were, Sydney A. Benedict, of DePare, Wis.; Rev. J. J. Boggs, in Canton, China, as a missionary; Rev. L. J. Davies, also a missionary, in Chenganfoo, China; Rev. C. H. French, of Scotland, S. D.; Rev. W. W. Johnson, of Tipton, Iowa; Rev. E. E. Nourse, of Berlin, Conn.; Jane S. Wilson, Tekama, Neb.; W. G. Wise, Chicago, and E. J. Wells, Jr., Chicago.

Mr. E. C. Cleveland, of the class of '94, has become a member of the Subscription Department of the Interior, in Chicago.

The members of the Alumni will be pleased to hear the following of one of their number, Mr. W. F. Lewis who graduated in the class of '89:

"The Rev. William Frederick Lewis, D. D., the pastor of the Rodney Street Presbyterian Church, Wilmington, Delaware, has received a flattering offer from Wales, which he may accept. The Synod of the Presbyterian Church of Wales has nominated Dr. Lewis to the chair of Hebrew and the Old Testament at the Presbyterian Theological College at Bala, North Wales. Dr. Lewis is considering the offer. For a number of years Dr. Lewis has devoted much time to studying Hebrew, and while at Princeton he gained the Carter scholarship. He was born in Shrewsbury, England, thirty-five years ago. He is a graduate of the Royal University of Wales and of the Princeton Theological Seminary. He has received several calls from churches in England, but has remained at his first charge, the Rodney Street Church, Wilmington, and during his pastorate a handsome church has been erected."

Mr. Lewis was a nephew of one of our college Presidents, Dr. Roberts, and his home was Lake Forest till he graduated from Princeton Theological Seminary: When in Lake Forest Mr. Lewis was one of the brightest and most able students in college. This report which we hear of him bears evidence that his worth to humanity is ever growing and we congratulate him on his success.

A FABLE.

There once lived a young man who had exceeding great command over his nerves and temper. Indeed he never lost his nerve, his temper, nor even his pocket book; nor had any one living or dead ever seen him in any but a state of cool serenity. Girls and football games were alike powerless to excite him and make him look anything but bored. Sometimes he smiled, but that was a luxury seldom indulged in.

Once, when the shades of evening were falling, and he was walking along, he fell into a deep reverie. Suddenly he fell into a deeper pit left on the wayside by a careless contractor, greatly to the detriment of his new $10 trousers and his knee cap. Most men would have blindly sworn the rest of the way home, and in consequence would have stubbed their toes and spoiled their new $8 patent leathers; but this young man picked himself and his cane up and merely remarked in a tone in which a deacon says "Looks like rain," "Well, it's queer they didn't hang a red lantern or something in this vicinity."

As he walked on limping painfully, he stroked his damaged limb and ever and anon was heard to mutter "Well, I suppose I'll have to get some new dress pants."

MORAL:—Self control and calmness are sometimes cheaper than uncontrolled anger and wrath.

1900.

The following is attributed to an enlightened astronomy student:

"Twinkle, twinkle little star,
I do wonder what you are,
You are evanescent gases,
Hardening into solid masses."

About this time of the year numerous and sundry bills appear for collection, and that people may not be disappointed by not receiving ours, we wish to ask all to overlook our omission, in not sending the afore mentioned, and to pay up. Messrs. Rice and Carron, proprietors of the College Book Store are ready to receive subscriptions and give receipts for the same as arc also Messrs. Graff, Loranz and Jackson. Remember that we have bills to pay also.

A meeting was held last week which might have been of some importance had it been some other meeting. This was supposed to be a conourse, apparently, of all who have a supreme knowledge of football. We do not deny that this was the case, we merely doubt it. Messrs. Stagg of Chicago University and Everett of University of Illinois, are no doubt good football authorities, we however think, that if a few more ordinary and less brilliant minds could come together with theirs that the result, as far as benefitting football is concerned would be much better. What was the result when a few years ago three eastern universities made up a set of rules governing etiquette in their games? We hope the two great authorities who have just been meeting had no intention of getting up rules for their own special benefit. How would it do, if, instead of getting a new set of rules for the west, the west should ask to have a say in the making up of the national association rules and let one or both of these Solons go to represent them on the Rules Committee? Wisconsin politely suggests that Mr. Stagg represent the west on this committee. They show the right spirit. Now why not have some concerted action on this subject by the western universities?

DAY OF PRAYER.

On Thursday, January 27th, the day of prayer for Colleges, Rev. Dr. J. A. Rondthaler will address the morning meeting of the students, his subject being, "The Religion of Thought." Dr. Rondthaler is at present in Chicago, having come there recently from Indianapolis, Ind., where his work was so well known.

SCIENCE CLUB.

The first regular program of the Science Club was rendered Monday evening Jan. 17. Miss Blanche Treat presented a paper on "Nutrition." Mr. Eisenhart followed with a review on "Apparitions and Thought Transference." Great interest was shown in these papers and both were followed by a lively discussion.

The program last evening consisted of three papers on Darwin, His Life, Theories and Influences by Messrs. Rice, Jaeger and Anderson Jr. The subject being of universal interest made it a very popular program.

The club promises to be instructive and entertaining and judging from the interest already shown, has a bright future before it. The aim of the club is to promote an interest in scientific methods and to become familiar with the results of modern research.

The officers are: J. A. Anderson, President; W. W. Jaeger, Vice President; Miss Francis Runsey, Secretary; and H. R. Anderson, Treasurer.
THE CLASS GAME.

Although the night was stormy, large number of students and their friends showed their loyalty in attending the game of Indoor base ball between the Sophomores and Freshmen played in the Gymnasium Saturday evening. Judging from the colors worn by the enthusiasts and from the sounds of horns and voices one would imagine he was attending the Championship game between the “Nervous Men” and the “Men of Nerve.” And certainly the lack of nerve of the Freshmen was shown by the way in which they handled the ball; and it also showed the audacity and coolness of the Sophomores in running up such a large score. The loose playing of the Freshmen in the first three innings lost them the game while the batting and team work of the Sophomores from the start showed practice and a determination to “do or die.” Barring the first three innings, the game was close and exciting.

For the Sophomores the best work was done by Capt. Blackler, whose pitching was of a high quality, showing good control, speed, and a cool head; and by Betten, who supported Blackler in fine style, and never failed to connect with the ball when at the bat. The Sophomores claim that Davies is another Anson, for he played a “great” game at first base.

For the Freshmen the best work was done by Hoagland at first-base, where he played like a professional; and by Wood, who played his usually strong game. The Umpires, Jaeger and Will Jackson, showed by their decisions that they were not in the least partial, and that they had no fear of dangling from the gallery railing by a rope.

The line-up was as follows:

Sophomores. Positions. Freshmen.

Before the game the Juniors challenged the winning team to play at a date to be decided later, and, when the last man was put out, the challenge was accepted. This game promises to be much more closely contested, and ought to bring out as large a crowd as attended Saturday night.

PRESIDENT DOLE AT FORT SHERIDAN.

Yesterday noon President Dole, of the Hawaiian Republic, was at Fort Sheridan. A number of Lake Forest students went down to see him, and as he stepped from his special train, he was greeted by the Lake Forest yell, to which he responded by raising his hat in a pleasant manner. Mr. Gur- estine, one of our Alumni, was on hand to interview Mr. Dole for the Chicago Evening Post.

PROFESSOR HALSEY’S REVIEW.

In the January issue of the Dial appears a review, by Professor Halsey, of a new book on the “Life of Robert E. Lee.” In this article Professor Halsey shows that Lee cannot be correctly regarded as a National Hero. In showing how sadly mistaken Lee was in his public career, Professor Halsey characterizes Lee as “one who was probably the greatest master of military strategy that this country has ever produced.” In denouncing the mistake Lee made in connecting himself with a cause “the motive principles of which offended his reason and outraged his heart,” Professor Halsey says: “far be it from any sane critic to say ought in disparagement of the nobility of soul and character of that magnificent soldier and man Robert E. Lee.” The great merit of this able article is the scholary way in which Professor Halsey brings out the beautiful traits in the character of Lee while at the same time he condemns the cause for which Lee fought.

TO A MITCHELHALLITE.

If I were a dew drop,
And you a red rose,
On thy soft silken petals
I’d gently repose.

And reveal in bliss.
Seek thy lips sweetest dimple,
And dissolve in a kiss.

FERRY HALL.

Miss Elizabeth Baker returned to school this week.

Miss Mable Flinn entertained Miss Harris of Peoria over Sunday.

Special—Laura finished copying her German exercises—great rejoicing—at the Senior table.

Miss Helen Creelman, Miss Mabel Hart and Miss McClintoch spent Sunday with friends in the city.

Miss Wilson, Miss Johnson, Miss Farmer and Miss Powell attended the Thomas' concert Friday afternoon.

Professor Eager and Miss Sizer chaperoned twenty young ladies at the concert for the Presbyterian Hospital last Monday evening.

There is a country somewhere
Beyond this vale of tears;
No unpaid bills show up there
Through all the endless years.

Everyone had a presentiment that something unusual would occur last week for "Tommy" and May appeared at breakfast before the five minute doors were closed.

Miss Sargent was the guest of friends in Harvey, Illinois on Friday. In the morning she spoke before the scholars of the High School, and in the afternoon before the Ladies Club of that place.

Tuesday evening Prof. Walter Smith gave a delightful and instructive paper on "Dantes' Inferno." It was intended primarily for the General Literature class but many took advantage of the lecture.

Miss George Espey left Wednesday for her home in Bloomington, Ill. She sails from New York the 10th of February in company with friends from her home, for a tour of sixty days around the Mediterranean.

Mr. Van Asphalt—How under the sun did those trousers get twisted around your legs so?

Mr. Du Parement—I have been to Lake Forest and tried to find my way to the Seminary.

Miss T. gave lecture on "Functional Activity" and the following day wished to look over the notes which the young ladies had taken. Evidently someone had been dreaming for the first paper was headed—"Cyclones."

At last we are happy! We are to have a salute, approved of by the Faculty and which we hope will be ready for the next Student Rally. We are going to make it as characteristic of us as the "yells" of the "Cad" and College were of those departments.

The end of the Semester draweth near, and the bill collector is abroad in the land Stationery bills, laundry bills, board bills, carriage bills, broken crockery bills, damage bills, crisp and new, will be exchanged with pleasure for bills old and worn if they are covered with Uncle Sam's trademarks.

We were happy to have Dr. McClure with us to lead our Chapel exercises on Friday morning as his presence is always an inspiration to us. Especially were we delighted when he urged us not to delay in getting a Ferry Hall call and also a Ferry Hall song which when rendered may make us famous.

The Athletic Party Friday evening was not only a howling success but also from a financial standpoint it was all that had been anticipated. One accident at the beginning of the evening spoiled the fun to a certain extent. Miss Miriam Follansbee sprained her ankle while jumping, but as soon as she was made comfortable, the fun continued. The games were played with great enthusiasm on both sides. In the Basket Ball match between the Sumus Septem and "Odd" teams the score was 9 to 7 in favor of the Red, and White. Miss Daisy Wentworth of Chicago refereed the game. The Athletic Society Treasurer holds $10 as the result of the entertainment.

Bits of Kind Advice to Young Men.

If the young lady whom you wish to call on does not chance to be in, do not hesitate to send your cards up to four or five others for some one will surely take pity and come down to entertain you.

Do not wait until you leave the hall to light your cigars or cigarettes. It is quite the proper thing to light them there, and of course there are none who object.

Do not wait to take off your overcoat before you go in to shake hands with the Reception Committee, you might also with all propriety leave on your gloves.
STUDENT GATHERING.

On Thursday afternoon of last week one of the pleasantest events of the year was held in the Art Institute. A meeting of the students and faculties of the Ferry Hall, Academy and College departments took place, and each department was represented in some way by one or more of its students. Miss May Jones of Ferry Hall recited "Bud Zunt's Maili," Mr. Brown of the College gave two selections. Two Academy students gave a Mandolin and Guitar duet, and James Fales gave a vocal solo. Mr. N. D. Pratt was present and led the singing of various songs among which was a new Lake Forest song written by Miss Larned. This new song is a charming composition, and may every student who sings it feel that the tribute to dear old Lake Forest contained in it bears the stamp of his own ratification.

Every student who attended this gathering seemed to feel that they came in a common cause, that of honoring our dear Alma Mater, and in their actions was evidence that such meetings will be willingly and gladly attended, whenever held.

Below is the Lake Forest song:

In the freshness of the day!
Bright the hours that glide above us
Hastening on their noiseless way!
Dear Lake Forest, well we love thee!
Fondly shall our backward gaze
Seek thy pleasant fields of learning
Wrapped in memory's golden haze.

THE NEW SCHEDULE.

Some days ago there came into our midst, not with any blaze of trumpets but in a mildly insinuating sort of a way, a "schedule" of work for the second semester. For the sake of Freshmen who might be deceived by its alluring title, we will explain that it is named as it is, because it tells you that the things you want come at the hours when you can't take them; the part that isn't occupied in telling you that, is engaged in the laudable work of telling you the courses you can take and don't want. Instead of being made for the sake of avoiding such things, it seems to be occupied in finding out how many conflicts can be conveniently made per capita. Do not be deceived by the B I or E I V which may be placed before a particular course you have in mind. That designation is not placed there for the convenience of finding the corresponding course in the circular of information, but is really a device to enable the printer to show off a new font of type.

With the circular of information in one hand and the "schedule of work" in the other one is prepared to find that course A I. History—Prof. Burnap, which comes at 9 a. m., is really course B V—Sanskrit—Prof. Anybody and comes at 4 p. m. This one experience will be a sufficient one to start the unsophisticated student on the high road to howling insanity, so we recommend that the "schedule" in connection with the "circular" be taken in homeopathic doses. The most consistent way is to "put not your trust in schedules" but high yourself to the Profs. in charge of the departments in which you want to take work and get your information first hand, and not after it has been twisted out of all recognition.

Of the 541 colleges and universities in this country, only 41 are closed to women. But to make up for this lack there are 143 schools of higher learning open to women only, and having 30,000 students.—Ex.

PHOEBE—No; it is not considered quite “pomme de terre” to wear green at an afternoon wedding.

GLADYS—The ante at a fashionable card party is one Saratoga chip.

DAISY—Your Russian blouse can be easily converted into a very chic dressing sack, by the addition of various dabs of mousseline de soie cut on the bias, and a few cut steel beads au jus.

MARIA—For the purpose you mention a good quality of hair cloth is perhaps the best. This can be purchased at any blacksmith shop or barber store.

CHLOROSA—Yes, have as little to do with that vile monster man as possible, and you may grow up to as blessed and useless a womanhood as I have. Beware of the dangers that lurk beneath the innocent exterior of man, and you will live to be envied by all.

AGNES—When you call on Mr. and Mrs. Jones and they are not at home, you should leave one card each for Mr. and Mrs. Jones and the little Joneses, and two each for the servants. Otherwise the deck should be investigated.

AN ADMIRER—Thanks for your kind words. Such praise is always extremely delicious, not to say flattering to one who is not in the least conceited.

MAGGIE—You should not correspond with a young gentleman unless you are engaged to him, unless he is an acquaintance of long standing,—or unless you want to.

PHILLIS—(1) When Rockaway oysters are eaten the shells should be gracefully conveyed to the pocket book. (2) You should not ask for a fourth helping of the roast—there may be another course.

MAYBELLE—The use of the word fin or flipper to designate the brachial extremity is very decidedly outre, and is rarely used in the best society.

BRIDGET—(1) If when dancing with a young gentleman he steps frequently upon your foot, ask him to step on the other foot a little while. (2) Will answer your second query when I hear from Queen Vic.

A Freshman small with a Senior tall,
Fell madly in love one day,
He took her to ride, in a sleigh by his side,
His bashful but true court to pay,
The sleigh it upset, and there is even yet,

I skated with a lassie,
My foot just slipped,
We both of us tripped,
Were down on the ice en massie.
