The Stentor, October 5, 1898

President of Lake Forest University.
SOME RECENT IMPROVEMENTS AND FUTURE PROSPECTS OF L. F. U.

In all the history of Lake Forest University, the prospects have never been brighter than at the opening of the present college year. There is the largest matriculation in the history of the under-graduate departments. In the college North Hall is filled and many rooms in College Hall are occupied. Mitchell Hall, Ferry Hall and the academy could accommodate no more students. Many improvements are under way, while others will be begun in a short time.

In the way of improvements the Young Men's Christian Association has not been behind, and it now occupies the large room on the second floor of North Hall, which was originally intended for the college reading room. The room remained unfurnished and useless all last winter, and prospects were favorable for the some condition of affairs during the coming winter. This summer, however, through the generosity of Mrs. Reid and others the room was elegantly furnished and turned over to the Y. M. C. A. A handsome piano now occupies one side of the room. Several beautiful pictures adorn the walls, and the floor is covered with expensive rugs. All these things, the gift of Mrs. Reid, make the room so home-like and beautiful that it has become the popular gathering place of students rooming in the two dormitories. Two large tables are filled with the current numbers of all the best periodicals, including religious publications. The room is open from four to eight, and between these hours music and a general good time is in order.

Too much praise cannot be given Mrs. Reid for placing such an elegantly equipped room at the disposal of the students. Such a place where students may meet together daily will tend to develop more college spirit, an end toward which everyone is working.

The improvements which have been made in the university boarding club are much appreciated by the students. During the summer, the authorities of the university papered and painted the dining hall of the Academia, and gave to the club an entire new outfit consisting of silver-ware, table linen, cooking utensils and a large range. New tables and chairs were also placed in the room. Various rules have been made regarding behavior, and the club is now a model boarding club. Improvements are being made in the assembly room of the Art Institute, and while these are in progress chapel is held in College Hall.

When seen by a reporter Dr. McClure expressed himself as much gratified at the increase in attendance this year. The total registration in the three departments at the present time is 374, compared to 294 at the same time last year. The registration in the college is 106, compared to 85 at the same time last year. Referring to the new buildings Dr. McClure said:

"Work has been begun on the woman's dormitory and the hospital, and it will be carried on as rapidly as possible. The hospital, which is the gift of Mr. Henry C. Durand, is to be called the "Alice Home". Its chief object is to provide a place for sick students. Its administration is to be in the hands of a committee of three trustees, namely: Dr. Haven, Mr. Delevan Smith and Mrs. Charles B. Farwell. The new woman's dormitory will accommodate forty students."

The only new member of the college faculty is Prof. James Needham. Prof. Needham graduated from Knox College, and afterwards taught there. He has also taken work at Johns Hopkins, Harvard and Cornell Universities, and a well-known professor says: I regard him as one of the strongest of the younger zoologists of this country. He is thoroughly trained in the modern methods of zoological investigation."

Miss Sargent, principal of Ferry Hall, is also much pleased at the increased attendance. She said: "There are 158 students in Ferry Hall this year, an increase of 19 over last year; 150 persons, including teachers, eat at the hall. There are about sixty students in the musical department. Ferry Hall and the cottage near by are both filled and still another building is utilized for recitation purposes. There are several new teachers in Ferry Hall this year. Miss Jessica McIntire, who is the new head of the department of history, graduated at the University of Michigan with the degree of Ph. B., and afterwards studied a year in Paris. Miss Margaret Stuart, the teacher of mathematics, is also a graduate of the University of Michigan, with a degree of A. M. Miss Kent is the new teacher on the violin. Miss Annette Covington, of Oxford, Ohio, has been engaged as Director of the Art Department. Miss Covington has studied in some of the most famous art schools of this country. She taught at the Western, a college for women, at Oxford, Ohio, 1896-1897, and at the Asheville College for Women 1897-1898. Miss Helen Fleming of Chicago is the director of the Department of Vocal Music. She has studied music in London and Paris, and has taught with success in Paris, Chicago and Memphis. At a home entertainment given at Ferry Hall last Friday evening $36.60 was raised for a scholarship.

The Academy is filled to overflowing this year. The dormitory and both cottages are full, and Prof. Welch states that he can fills another building next year. Prof. Welch is delighted at the prospects and forsees a brilliant future for the Academy. Athletics are receiving due attention at the hands of Prof. Welch, and as a result the football team this year surpasses any that has represented the Academy for many years.

THE WOMAN'S CAMPUS IMPROVEMENT SOCIETY.

In July of this year, a number of loyal Lake Forest ladies, friends of the University, organized a club known as The Woman's Campus Improvement Society. The object in the forming of this society was the improving the grounds or buildings of the College Academy or Seminary. The officers of the Society are: President, Mrs. Thomas; Vice-President, Mrs. Larned; Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. Burnap. The society also has an executive committee, consisting of the officers and four others: Mrs. Reid, Mrs. Tabor, Mrs. A. G. Welch and Mrs. Joseph Durand. The society has now 25 active members. These ladies no sooner formed their society than they began the work of improvements. A committee was appointed to determine the first steps to be taken, and they carefully looked over the grounds of the University, following a set of plans made by Mr. Manning for the campuses. The first improvements were made on the College campus and old sheds and other obstructions were moved away from the region of Academia, a new drive-way for the hauling of coal to the engine house was laid, and the ground was seeded down as a lawn. The ladies also decided to use their influence for the removal of what is commonly known as "Frye's Causeway," across the ravine by the engine house, and have the ravine bridged between the north hall and the President's house. A drive-way will then extend from the art institute grounds, past the new ladies' hall, to the College Campus. Numerous trees, shrubs and vines will be planted early in October, to be followed by many more beautifying forms of trees in the Spring. The present aim of the society is to obscure the presence of the engine house and to restore the ravine to some of its original natural beauties. Work will begin on the Academy and Ferry Hall grounds when the society has developed more resources. To meet the demand for the improvements now being made the ladies decided to give an entertainment at the Art Institute September 9th. This they did and, it netted $100. Besides being a success financially, this entertainment was one of the most charming events ever held in the Art Institute. Miss Katherine E. Oliver, one who has gained a wide reputation for interpretation of characters, read many entertaining selections from Scotch authors. Mrs. Frank Hall and Miss Annie Day gave many delightful songs, also mostly of Scottish origin. Refreshments were served of Scottish elements, and the decorations of the hall were also national Scottish favorites. Altogether the evening was a delightful one.

Mrs. Thomas, president of the society, when interviewed, said the society had bright prospects and meant to work consistently along the lines laid down in Mr. Manning's plans of the campus, and as far as possible doing whatever their resources might warrant. She asked that an appeal be made to the students for co-operation with the plans of the society, by keeping the grounds about the buildings free from the small litter so apt to gather, and thus encourage the society in their work. To this society the STENTOR wishes long life and much prosperity.

CONCERNING MITCHELL HALL

When back we came to Mitchell Hall, we were quite surprised at the difference in the place. Why when we opened the door, the very air rushed forward, with an impetuosity which nearly carried us off our feet; it was so different from that tired feeling which pervaded every nook and corner when we said "farewell" last June. Immediately our minds set to work to find the why and the wherefore. In addition to the prosy details of a thorough house cleaning, we found that this room had received a coat of fresh paint and that one was newly papered; these things, small enough in themselves, quite changed the former dejected and much used air of the Hall. The appearance of the sleeping apartments was further improved by new natty iron bedsteads taking the place of the old lame wooden ones which would rather fall down than be sat upon.

It is said that the furnaces have been thoroughly fixed and renovated; but it yet remains to be seen if they will live down their last year's habits of making breaks and going out.

Above all, the presence of so many girls, and the fact that at least one new dormitory is actually begun has filled our hearts with enthusiasm and the Hall with songs and gentle feminine mirth.
THE BABY SHOW AT FERRY HALL.

Anyone to whom the reputation of Ferry Hall was unknown, if such could have been found, upon entering the gymnasium on Friday night might have thought that he had stumbled into a kindergarten of remarkably well-grown and prepossessing children, all of whom were enjoying themselves immensely and cutting up all sorts of capers, unmindful of the presence of various' mammas and nurses, many of whom, strange to say, were of almost dwarfish stature.

This same stranger, if at all democratic in his views, might have noted with rejoicing that all class and race distinctions seemed to have been swept away, for there were little pickanninies playing side by side with their white neighbors and negro mammies chatting contentedly away with the nurses of the white portion of the assembly.

Rich and poor alike were there, and ragged little Miss Ruche was welcomed in the games as gladly as pretty, well-dressed Miss Douglas.

The whole assembly presented a most charming picture with their clever, pretty and even comic costumes, many of which created much laughter, and added greatly to the general enjoyment.

The Stentor once more makes its appearance, now beginning its thirteenth yearly struggle for existence. The Stentor has succeeded in surmounting all obstacles in years past, and will endeavor to do so again this year. This year the University is beginning to feel the impulse of new prosperity and the Stentor, when it thoroughly analyzes its feelings, will probably agree with the University. The question of making the Stentor a bi-weekly has been discussed and disposed of and we shall continue our course as a weekly. In this character as a weekly no student can afford to be without it. It is the official organ of the University and will contain all communications between faculty and students. Social affairs and student life in general will receive careful attention. Every subject of interest in the University will find room in its pages for discussion. It will not represent any faction or class and will be strictly non-partisan, but it will endeavor to represent the University and the students in fairness, to all concerned. On account of our lateness in appearance we will not endeavor to counsel any, taking for granted that the Freshmen have already received their advice from other sources and that any other new students have by this time "caught on," as they will inevitably do.

But as all the students, new and old, have been greeted in turn by their fellows, by President McClure, and by the faculties, the Stentor now extends its hearty greetings, welcoming the new students to their new surroundings and the old students to its circle of acquaintances again.

The Stentor hopes for a successful year's work and asks that each student new and old takes a personal interest in it, as only by co-operation can our columns retain their value and interest to the students or friends of the University.

From the Daily we notice that the University of Michigan has made two decided changes in her athletic management this year. The first is the putting of all athletics under the direction of a physical trainer who is to be a member of the faculty, and the second is the appointment of a Graduate Manager of the various athletic teams. Among the advantages that are confidently expected under the new management are, a strictly pure amateurism, a well defined and consistent policy in athletics, the enthusiastic support of the undergraduates and the securing of greater financial success.

"From San Francisco to Manila with the 13th Minnesota" is the title of an extremely interesting and well written account in the Ariel of life on board a U. S. troop ship.
FERRY HALL.

Ferry Hall Seminary opens this season with greater prosperity than ever before. The students number 152. Ferry Hall is full. Reel Hall and Loey Cottage have been fitted up to receive the new girls, and life is beginning to be comfortable, even in these annexes.

We are hoping that before next year we may have a handsome new building, so that we may accommodate more students.

The greater prosperity of 1898 is also shown in the numerous improvements of Ferry Hall. Beautifully tinted walls and a new carpet add to the charm of our little chapel.

Five new pianos are to be numbered with our benefits and one is to be a common delight—a grand for the parlor.

The faculty of Ferry Hall has this year welcomed four new members to its numbers, and by so doing has gained for the school a most valuable acquisition.

Miss Maclntyre, the new instructor of history, has already proven that she intends making her department at once pleasant, interesting and profitable.

Miss Flemming, the well-known vocal teacher from Chicago, has kindly consented to devote two days of each week to the inmates of Ferry Hall. We feel that under her tutelage the progress of the girls is assured.

The girls are all sorry to lose Miss Sargeant as teacher of mathematics, but are agreed that no better substitute could be found to take her place than Miss Steward, the new instructor.

Last, but by no means the least of the new members of the faculty, we have Miss Covington, whose department is art and art history.

With the faculty which Ferry Hall now has working for its interests, we prophecy a most excellent standard of work and do not doubt that each earnest student will find this year profitable and instructive.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Dietrich, of Hastings, Nebraska, spent Saturday with his daughter, Gertrude.

Mr. Williams visited with his daughters the last of the week.

Miss Westervelt went to the city to spend Sunday with friends.

Mrs. Catherwood visited her daughter, Hazel, on Friday.

Miss Sargeant entertained Mr. and Mrs. Crosby at dinner Wednesday evening.

Miss Bessie Sanborn, of Portage, Wis., has accepted the position left vacant by Miss Butterworth, who is studying art in Chicago.

Miss Julia D. Tarbell entertained her sister, Miss Tabrell over Sunday.

MITCHELL HALL.

Under the efficient leadership of Miss Jean S. Wood, '99, a glee club has recently been organized at Mitchell Hall, on which most of the girls are enrolled. The practices are to be held three times a week. At present all are engaged in learning the L. F. U. song, composed by Miss Daisy Wood, '99. It is hoped that the club will add materially to the pleasures of life at Mitchell Hall, and to this end Miss Wood is laboring to harmonize the voices of the many artists able to sing all four parts at once.

Room 11 was the scene of a very pleasant gathering on Friday evening of last week. The Misses Andrews and Robinson entertained the Mitchell Hall young women to an elaborate spread.

In the course of the evening some guitar music and singing was rendered and much laughter was caused by the riddles and jokes.

At about eleven o'clock the company broke up, unanimous in declaring Miss Andrews and Miss Robinson royal hostesses.

ALUMNI.

M. K. Baker, '97, holds a responsible position in the treasurer's department of the Illinois Central Railroad.

H. B. Cragin, Jr., '96, who has been for over a year in the far West, is reported to have been recently seen in Chicago.

H. B. Moore, '96, after putting in a very successful summer in Libertyville where he had charge of important church work, has returned to McCormick for his senior year.

J. K. Anderson, Jr., '97, after a year of private study at his home in Waukesha, left last month for Princeton Theological Seminary where he will prepare himself for the ministry.

Paul Linebarger, '89, well known to some of the older alumni, was among Lake Forest's representatives at the front in the "latest unpleasantness" and escaping the perils of camp life reached Chicago a second lieutenant in Young's cavalry.

E. E. Vance, '95, better known as "Deacon", has been ordained to the ministry, after preparing himself at Princeton and McCormick seminaries, and is now located in one of our central Illinois towns.

Bruce Campbell, ex-'00, is at present employed in a position of trust at the Illinois State Reformatory located at Pontiac. "Bruce" is an enthusiastic Lake Forester and his enthusiasm moreover has developed material results as shown by the strong delegation sent up from Pontiac.

Augusta Stuart, '97, who took graduate work in Lake Forest last year, has charge of the work in Latin in the high school at Cherokee, Iowa. The exceptional facilities enjoyed by Miss Stuart under the direction of her father, fits her especially for the department of which she is in charge, and with the teacher's instinct which she no doubt inherits, her record as an instructor should be an enviable one.

Olive McClanahan, '96, who spent the year of 1896-97 in teaching in one of the Michigan high schools, held the position of assistant principal in the Carlinville, Illinois, high school last year.

Marian Woolsey, '96, one of the most popular men ever at Lake Forest and the best foot ball player we have ever had, has been located by D. H. Jackson at Peoria, where he is engaged in the surveying business. Woolsey after graduating went to Champaign for the purpose of taking a course in civil engineering and his failure to return to Illinois last season was a great disappointment to the football enthusiasts.

D. H. Jackson, '96, has dropped law and athletics for the time being, and is now engaged in teaching in Shurtleff College, Upper Alton.

The students at Capitol University, Columbus, O., have shown their loyalty by presenting the institution with a new five-inch telescope.

Saturday evening the ladies of the college senior class gave a party at Mitchell Hall to the gentlemen of that organization. It was only fitting that the girls of this class should set an example in the matter of class parties by giving the first one of the year. For the occasion the Hall had been decorated in a most unique fashion with various tinted leaves, Chinese lanterns and class colors in profusion. An item of the much enjoyed program of the evening was the refreshments. It was near the midnight hour before the fellows of '99 expressed themselves as having had a simply superb, sumptuous and satisfying time, and took their departure. As a result of this pleasant social event the members of this strong and enthusiastic class feel nearer and dearer to one another. May this be only the first step in strengthening the bond which should join every class before crossing the threshold of their alma mater for the last time.

The Good Government Club at the University of Michigan announce in their course for this year, lectures by Eugene V. Debs and William Jennings Bryan.
THE ACADEMY FACULTY.

The Academy faculty has some new faces in this year. Alfred A. Doolittle, of Princeton, is instructor in geology and chemistry; Herbert L. Winans, who has just returned from a year’s study abroad, is Master in Greek. Mr. Winans is also a Princeton man. John C.S. nec, of Indiana University, taught mathematics most successfully in Elgin last year, but the charms of Lake Forest won him completely. He now is Master of Mathematics in Lake Forest Academy. Conrad Hibbeler is Instructor in French and German. Mr. Hibbeler taught with Mr. Welch for two years at Elgin and is a tried man. His enthusiasm and ability in the class room and on the athletic field is bound to make his work popular and successful. He will coach foot ball until after Thanksgiving, and will then be instructor in the gymnasium. Mr. Hibbeler will put some science and system into the gym classes, and is already planning to have some gymnastic exhibitions. While taking advanced work at Harvard this summer he had the privilege of meeting the foot ball magnates there.

A new chair has been established in the Academy this year—that of Elocution and Literary Reading and Interpretation. Miss Mina Borden has the honor of the first appointment, and judging from the enthusiasm she is putting into her work, the Academy may count itself fortunate in securing her. Miss Borden meets each form once a week in literary reading, and once a week in expression. She will also give private lessons to those who wish it.

Mr. McKee and Mr. Coblentz have returned, and also Miss McQueen. Herr Gustav Birn will continue to be instructor in piano and violin.

This makes the largest faculty the Academy has ever had, and fully as strong. This, with the enrollment of 110 students the first week, makes a good start in the new year. Mr. Welch is fairly pleased, but far from satisfied. It is but the beginning.

THE BREAKING OF THE SOD.

An extremely interesting ceremony was performed in Lake Forest Wednesday, September 21st. It was announced the previous day that instead of holding chapel services at the usual place Wednesday noon, the students were to meet on the campus near the Art Building. During the services the sod was to be broken for the Lois Hall, the funds for which were donated by H. C. Durand, of Lake Forest.

Accordingly at 12:05 p. m. Wednesday the college faculty and students gathered at the appointed place, and after a hymn Dr. McClure read a portion of the Scripture, and Prof. Thomas led in prayer. Then Prof. Halsey took the spade, and after a few minutes of energetic labor raised a square of sod amid the cheers of the students. Three cheers and a tiger for Prof. Halsey followed. This ceremony was the beginning of the building toward which all the young ladies are looking with great interest. Several kodak views of the ceremony were taken.

OPENING RECEPTION.

Friday evening, Sept. 23rd, the students were invited to attend a reception given by the Faculties of the College, Academy and Ferry Hall. This, the opening reception of the year, was a most delightful gathering and the full attendance of students showed an enthusiastic appreciation of the invitations of the august Faculties. The reception was held in the Art Institute, so admirably adapted for social gatherings.

The building, artistically and beautifully decorated with foliage, plants and flowers looked as beautiful as only the Art Institute can. Tomaso’s Mandolin Orchestra furnished entrancing music throughout the evening and refreshments were served by members of the faculties.

The Art Institute parlors were thrown open, and in them the students new and old were received by Dr. and Mrs. McClure, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Welch, Miss Hull and Mr. Tewksbury.

The University of Penn. is soon to take a step in advance of her sister American institutions in the erection of a Vivarium by the Biological Department. The building will contain both salt and fresh water aquariums, and there will be accommodations for specimens of nearly all the families of the smaller mammals, of insects, birds, etc. This "live" house will be the first of its kind erected at any university in this country and should furnish a great stimulus to Zoological work by introducing the study of living creatures instead of dead ones as is the custom now.

Cornell University has been presented with $1,500,000 for a medical school which is to be situated in New York City. One prominent feature of the building will be the dispensary, the largest in New York, occupying more than half of the first two out of the five floors. The four years' course will be given in New York, although the first two years may be taken at Ithaca.

We stood at the bars as the sun went down Beneath the hills on a summer day; Her eyes were tender and big and brown, Her breath as sweet as the new-mown hay.

Far from the west the faint sunshine Glanced sparkling off her golden hair; Those calm, deep eyes were turned toward mine, And a look of contentment rested there.

I see her bathed in the sunlight flood, I see her standing peacefully now, Peacefully standing and chewing her cud, As I rubbed her ears,—that Jersey cow.
