Rev. Alex McFerran, 97' was in Lake Forest, last week.

Mrs. Talbot of De Pere, Wis. visited her daughter Miss Margaret last week.

Miss Mabel McClenahan ex '00, attended Alethian reception, Friday evening.

Miss Amy Sickles, ex '01, appeared in our midst last Saturday. Miss Sickles is taking a nurse's training course at Hahnemann Hospital.

Is this logic? "People oftentimes have water on the brain, water furnishes habitation to bugs known as water-bugs. Therefore people have bugs."

"AFTER THE BALL."

"One Saturday this fall I was in the south end of town playing ball with a friend. He was batting flies to me. Soon my friend knocked one way over me, but I ran after it as fast as I could. I had my hand up "After the Ball" and was still running my best when I suddenly became aware that a three cornered fence post was dangerously near my face. Accordingly I lay down more hurriedly than grace-fully to look at the mental pictures, such as stars, lightning, etc., which passed through my brain at that in-stant. As soon as this vision passed away I got up. My face and shoulder pained me so badly that I did not notice the scratch, which the wire on the fence had made on my hand, until my attention was called to it."

The author of the above,—He is a Freshman,—might be considered a fine candidate for membership of the Psychology class.

RESULTS OF A MAIDEN'S THOUGHTLESSNESS.

Something peculiar was in one of the young ladies rooms. It made itself known by that indefinite something, that indescribable nothing, by which ghosts and that ilk manifest themselves. One almost expected to see a vision of some heavenly visitor. If there had been any noise one would have expected to see a mouse, a tar-antula; or a centipede, but the stillness of death reigned over all. What was wrong no one knew.

At last by some unknown power possibly magnetism, It, this unknown It, was located. It was found to be back of a certain large trunk that was in the room. No one wished to investigate, but at last one intrepid damsel approached the place with averted face and trembling hands she made a dive and struck—O, what could it be?—some solid substance. Hideous thoughts and vain imaginations wildly surged through her mind. Finally gaining courage she boldly drew it forth, producing—a copy of the Cyclopædia of Xenophon which some rash girl had flung into the corner, there to stay and disturb the whole house. When, oh, when will girls cease to do such imprudent things, dangerous alike to mind and body; oh, when will she become thoughtful and considerate?

At a meeting of the College Boarding Club a new constitution was adopted and officers were elected. The choice of the club for Senior-steward was O. H. McCormack and Junior-steward Mr. Morley.

A new tabulated record of scores made in this year's "funnel game" is being prepared for publication. In several instances the record was badly bent, and leather medals in commemoration of the event are now in preparation.

The musical clubs have been organized for the ensuing year with the following officers: Leader of Glee Club, Robertson Brown; Mandolin Club, Henry A. Haugan; Banjo Club, Robt. J. L. Matthews, with Cyrus Knouff as manager. There is abundant new material; in fact the outlook for successful clubs has not been so bright for several years. Regular rehearsals have begun and the clubs promise to be in excellent shape by the Christmas recess.

Last Saturday night Ferry Hall was the scene of a very pleasant reception given by the seniors in honor of the juniors. On account of the usual open evening the reception was held in the music and art rooms on the fourth floor. These rooms were very tastily decorated for the occasion. At the head of the receiving committee were Miss Maude Mohr and Miss Sargent who were assisted by members of the senior and junior classes. The evening was spent most enjoyably by all present. Games such as sewing on the button driving the spike afforded much amusement to the guests and prizes were offered to those excelling in these arts. During the evening delicious refreshments were served.
The entire evening was a most enjoyable one, and the members of the senior and junior classes established an enviable reputation as entertainers.

NOTICE.

Mrs. Hubbard is to give a talk on birds in the Ferry Hall Chapel at 6:15 Tuesday evening. Assisted in musical selections by Miss Day.

SUNDAY EVENING SONG SERVICE.

Sunday evening song service was unusually entertaining this week. We had the opportunity of listening to some very good advice from Mrs. Bourland, president of the Peoria Woman's Club. Unlike most advice, our only regret was that we could not hear more from this talented lady. We were also favored with two beautiful solos by Miss Learned.

ACADEMY NOTES.

Mrs. D. H. Cameron was at breakfast on time this morning.

R. P. Hobbs is a new student added to the dormitory this week.

Lake Forest Academy has a game with the Milwaukee East Side High School on the home field Oct. 29, '98.

Mr. V. E. Fleming, who had his ankle dislocated in last Saturday's game, is much better and will be out in a few days.
While the prospects for the 'varsity football team this year seem rather poor, this is not really the case, as the material is better than that of last year's team. The greatest difficulties in developing a winning team are the lack of funds to secure proper coaches, also the lack of a second team. These difficulties can be overcome if proper interest is shown by the students.

Two of the best football men in the west can be secured to coach the team for little more than their expenses; if they can be assured of sufficient material to work with. The success of the effort to secure coaches, then, depends on the willingness of the men to get out. With the old men of last year's team and the available new material there is no reason why we should not have a winning team. The following men of last year's team are back: Capt. W. F. Jackson, Blackler, McCorrnack and Curtis, backs; Sickles and Roberts, ends; Rheingans, tackle. Among the new candidates trying for positions are: J. J. Jackson, Fehring, Mayer, Carstens, Williams, Graff and Snyder. Snyder played half back on the Illinois Cycling Club team last year.

The manager has several hard games scheduled and will secure others as soon as a good team is assured.

The Musical Association of the College which was organized several weeks ago is making a successful start and the prospects are that the clubs will be ahead of the standard, which has in past years been excellent. It is to be hoped that during the long stages of training and practice the men will hold themselves to the work faithfully, as it is to the constant working together of the members, that any club owes its success in musical delivery. Every member of the clubs should also feel that on him depends the question as to whether the University shall have these clubs or not, for unless they develop some exceptional talent, the management will in all probability not venture upon a trip of any extent. The University should certainly be represented by a musical association as much as it should be by athletic teams, and this should be an argument for all students musically inclined to attend regularly the meetings of the clubs.

The All-American baseball team selected by B. A. Smallley, of the College Athlete for the season of 1898 is as follows:

Pitcher—Greenway, Yale.
Catcher—Kafer, Princeton.
First base—Kelly, Princeton.
Second base—Haughton, Harvard.
Third base—Lauder, Brown.
Shortstop—Camp, Yale.
Right field—Wallace, Yale.
Center field—Wear, Yale.
Left field—Rand, Harvard.
ALUMNI.

Fred M. Skinner, '92, has returned to his Lake Forest home, and will spend the winter in town.

Aubrey Warren, ex-'91, spent Saturday in town and was an interested spectator at the Academy football game.

Geo. W. King, ex-'92, who during the early days of football at Lake Forest, was one of our bright particular stars on the gridiron, is still located at Phoenix, Ariz., and at last reports was very greatly improved in health.

C. A. Coolidge, ex-'96, who after spending three years at Lake Forest, yielded to the seductive allurements of his own state university and took his degree at Ann Arbor, where he later took a year of law, has recently entered the law department of Northwestern University. "Sarg," as he was best known in college, was without doubt the laziest as well as the most popular man in school, at the same time making a most creditable record as a student.

W. U. Halbert, '96, of Belleville, in a recent letter to the editor, renewing his subscription and extending his best wishes to The Stentor for the coming year, mentions having had a visit from Geo. Busse, well known to many of the old timers, who has recently left the field of politics and taken to the stage. George, who in his college days was built along the graceful lines of a tooth pick, has attained to portly, almost massive proportions, and now tips the beam at 260 pounds.

The marriage of Miss Lily Ward, of Chicago, to Mr. Will Godfrey, of Dixon, Ill., took place at the bride's home 3536 Ellis avenue, last Thursday evening. This wedding is of much interest to the Alumni and Alumnae of Lake Forest, as both Miss Ward and Mr. Godfrey attended college here. The maids, Miss Frances Ward and Miss Godfrey were both Alumnae of Ferry Hall, while Miss Grace Reid and Ellen Holt were college students. Of the ushers, Messrs. Bosworth, Sickles, Morris and Hale, Mr. Morris attended college here. The ribbon men were Fred. Skinner '92, and Art. Reid ex '97. Among the guests were many others formerly of the University. Mrs. Fuller formerly Miss Goodsell, Mrs. McGill formerly Miss Esther Wetherell, and Mrs. Hornbaecker formerly Miss Mary Rogers, were all in college at Lake Forest. Mrs. Harriman formerly Miss Bertha Ray, was for some years a teacher in Ferry Hall. Dr. B. M. Linnell '91, and wife Grace Brubaker are better known to our younger Alumni. Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler well known in Lake Forest, and both graduates of the college were also present. Also Mrs. Thurston formerly Miss Charlotte Skinner. On Tuesday evening the marriage of Miss Mildred Lyon, a graduate of Ferry Hall, and Mr. George Brown, Jr., was solemnized at the bride's residence in Chicago.

Mr. Frank Aldrich spent Sunday with his cousin, Mr. Fred Aldrich, and sang in Church both morning and evening. This was greatly enjoyed and appreciated by the audience.

Mrs. Yaggy gave a reception in honor of Miss Sargent on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Farwell, Mrs. Ward, Mrs. McClure and Mrs. Haven assisted in receiving. Miss Durand, Miss Rumsey, Miss Moss and Miss Warner presided in the dining room, which was tastefully decorated with pink roses. Smiley served.

ALETHEIAN RECEPTION.

Among the social events of the season the reception given by the Aletheian Literary Society last Friday evening will be especially remembered by those who attended as being a pleasurable event. It was held in the parlors of the society at Mitchell Hall. The College Classes and the other two literary societies were invited as well as the senior classes of the Academy and Ferry Hall.

The parlors were tastily and beautifully decorated with flowers and plants and beautiful foliage from our forest trees.

The early part of the evening was spent in conversation and making acquaintances. The reception committee of the society left nothing undone in entertaining the guests. Refreshments were served later in the evening and heightened the geniality of the occasion.

Thus the evening was spent delightfully and another annual reception of the Aletheian Society goes down in history as a success. The reception committee were: Mrs. Sickles, Mrs. C. B. Farwell, the Misses Bell, Wood, Pettibone, Moore, Steele, Coleman, Wilson, Parker.

SATURDAY EVENING

Opie Read, the genial author and play writer, who will furnish the larger portion of the alumni entertainment in Lake Forest Saturday, October 22d, is perhaps one of the most versatile men of Chicago. As a story teller in the nooks and corners of the press club rooms he is without peer. Stories, with a quiet humor pervading, makes them irresistible, and the hearer becomes careless of the minutes slipping away. He laughs, and his hearers laugh with him, and the best that can be said of him is that he hurts no feelings. The "Arkansaw Hanging" is one of the more popular of his efforts, and it is hoped he will render it on the occasion of his appearance in Lake Forest.

Music lovers cannot but be interested in the announcement that one of the leading mandolin trios has been engaged for the evening to ensure the success of a splendid entertainment. Mr. Guy Pierce is leader with Mr. Zuber second mandolin. Mr. Zuber is one of the leading artists in the city. and is rated by many as the leader in finish and execution. Such a treat has not been offered in Lake Forest in years to music lovers. They are secured for the evening by rare good fortune.

Miss Cora Perce, the Chicago contralto, one of the sweetest of the city's singers, has arranged a rare program for the evening.

Mr. Charles D. Almy will deliver his talk, the subject matter of which has been gleaned from actual experiences on a trip around the world, Wittily and most pleasingly described.

Other numbers fill the program completely.

LAKE FOREST ACADEMY 28, NORTHWESTERN MILITARY ACADEMY 0.

About two hundred people saw the Cads win their second game of the season on the Cad Field Wednesday afternoon. The field was a little soft in places, but in spite of the fact, a quick, snappy game was played, and the score might have been made much larger if the Cads had not put in the "subs" the second half. The play of Highland Park was rather listless and the Cads gained ground at will.

Highland Park kicked off but Burke brought the ball back to the center of the field. From there the oval was rushed down the field by Norton, Hamm, Whitney and Stark, and a touch down was made by Norton, after Northwestern had gotten the ball on fumble and was unable to gain. Whit- ney kicked goal.

Highland Park kicked off again and after the ball was brought back twenty yards by Whitney, Hamm made a sensational run of seventy-five yards for touchdown, in 1 minute of play.

The next touch down was secured in two minutes by Stark, good gains being made by the backs and ends. Norton is credited with the fourth touchdown and the half ended with the score of 23 to 0.

During the second half the only score was secured by Vincent on a pretty run half the length of the field. The game ended with the pig skin in the center of the field, and the score 28 to 0.

The Cad line holds well and on the offensive good gains were made around the tackles and through the center but the backs have the fault of hitting the line too high. The ends did not have many chances to distinguish themselves on defensive but did well when the opportunity was offered. From the showing thus far the Cads should make a strong pull for the Tri-Academic banner.

LAKE FOREST ACADEMY 44, HARVARD SCHOOL 0.

Saturday afternoon the Cads won their third game by a score of 44 to 0 against the Harvard School of Chicago. The Harvard boys, although outweighed greatly, played a plucky game and their light ends tackled well, but were unable to down the heavy Cads before large gains were made. Great improvement is shown in the Cad's game, but they are still slow in lining up. A number of trick plays were used to great advantage, and several brilliant runs by Burke, Hamm and the other backs were the result.

In the first half three touch downs were scored, and when time was called the ball was within six inches of the Harvard line.

In the second half four touch-downs and one safety were made, the latter being made by Sidley, when the Cads had the ball within three yards of the Harvard goal-posts.

The Cad line played well, Jeffers and Swift breaking through several times and tackling before plays were well started. Line up:

FROM PROFESSOR BREWER.

The following poem was sent to the STENTOR at the close of last year and too late for publication in the STENTOR at that time. We take pleasure in giving it to our readers now. Professor Brewer was the popular head of the English department in the Academy for two years.

MARI RELICTO.
O inland sea with your mirrored skies,
O little waves with your sobs and sighs,
I knew not all that ye were to me,
Till I left your shores, O inland sea.

O far dim lirc of the sky and sea,
O sails that fly where the wind blows free,
And pass beyond to the blue unknown,—
Ye carry a mystery all your own.

What seek ye, O silent traffickers?
And whither away, O travellers?
We fare by land and ye fare by sea,
But what shall the end of your faring be?

O inland sea with your ways unknown,
O little waves with your undertone,
I knew not all that ye were to me,
Till I left your shores, O inland sea.

—WILL F. BREWER, Bozeman, Mont.

The Echo, a very creditable sheet published by the young ladies of the New York City Normal College, has recently found its way to our exchange table.

"Dear Father:—Once you said, 'My son,
To manhood you have grown;
Make others trust you, trust yourself,
And learn to stand alone.'"

"Now, father, soon I graduate,
And those who long have shown
How well they trust me, want their pay,
And I can stand a loan."—Ex.
